LAST EDITION. FOUGHT LIKE TIGERS.

Taylor and His Wife Vanquished Two Deputy Marshals.

Rolling Down a Stairway Into the Street, Still Tussling.

The Woman Throttled and Clawed Her Antagonist Fiercely.

Two of the new deputy marshals recently appointed by United States Marshal McCarthy had an experience with a prisoner whom they will not tire talking of until they meet with another like it.

They were detailed to arrest Charles E. Taylor, a colored man, accused of forging a pension blank and obtaining $547 under false pretenses. Taylor lives on the top floor of a double-decker tenement at 51 West Forty-fourth street, where the deputies found him.

The deputies told him to hurry, and Taylor lunged at Deputy William McCormack and struck him a blow in the face that staggered him. McCormack's companion, John T. Kennedy, rushed to the assistance of his partner.

But Taylor's wife had him by the throat in a life.
Taylor rushed forward to throw him over, Kennedy endeavored to shake off the woman, but she clung to him with other deputy was in a minute all four were rolling downstairs into the street, still fighting.

The deputies held on to Taylor and the woman held on to them. On the sidewalk, the man and woman were struggling. The woman fought her man into the street and back again, while the other deputy was in a minute all four
were rolling downstairs into the street,
still fighting.

On the corner, they decided that one should remain while the other went to the forty-seventh street police station for reinforcement. The two who were left were determined to help them, and Taylor was captured. He was taken this morning to Ludlow Street Jail and locked up.

MARRIED SINCE MARCH.

But Sculptor Fucign's Wedding Notice Was Only Printed To-Day.

The following wedding notice appeared in a morning newspaper to-day:

FLUCIGNA-STEARNS—On March 28, by Dr. Houshton, Victor Achille Fucigna and Cornelia Elizabeth Stearns.

The bride-groom to this contract was found in the person of Sculptor Fucigna at 681 First avenue, who had published the notice long in announcing his marriage he said that he had not announced it yet and was very much astonished.

He said he had been married according to that notice at the Little Church Around the Corner, and that the only reason the notice was suppressed at the time was owing to the fact that his wife was a Protestant and he a Catholic and some family opposition might have to be satisfied on both sides.

A few days ago he had a quarrel with his wife and hasn't been home since.
He supposed that she had published the marriage notice to bring him to time.

WATERSON IN CONTEMPT.

Said to Have Collected a Bill in Spite of an Injunction.

Alexander Waterson, was arrested yesterday afternoon by Deputy Sheriff Walsh, on an order issued by Justice O'Brien, of the Supreme Court, charging him with contempt of Court.

Waterson is the husband of Mrs. Solomon Jones in the millinery business.
A disagreement with her over the management of the business was the cause of the firm of which his wife was a partner.

HE HAS THREE WIVES.

Schoonmaker's Latest New Jersey Love Gets Him Into Jail.

HANCOCK, N. Y., Oct. 16.—Detective Hutchinson, of Belvidere, N. J., has arrested Charles Schoonmaker, of Fallsburg, Sullivan County, on a charge of bigamy.

Ten or twelve years ago Schoonmaker married Miss Nettie Orr, of Bridgeville, and shortly thereafter she came here and married another woman. He soon tired of wife No. 2, and the next day he married a third woman, who is the cause of his being indicted.

TRIED TO BURN THEM ALIVE.

Mother and Children Locked in a Room and the House Fired.

HAZLETON, Pa., Oct. 16.—John Hud-dock, of Jeaneville, returned to his boarding-house drunk Sunday night, and tried to kill John Struko. The latter fled and Huddock then destroyed the furniture in the house. He afterwards locked Mrs. Struko and her three children in a room and set fire to the building.

Neighbors with difficulty rescued the woman and children. The house was partly destroyed. Huddock was arrested and held for trial.

HARBUS SUE FOR DIVORCE.

His Wife Alleges that He Has Failed to Support Her.

Judge Pryor, of the Court of Common Pleas, to-day heard the suit of Mrs.
Clara Harbus for an absolute divorce from Benjamin J. Harbus.

The couple were married in 1888. Mrs.
Harbus alleges that since the first few weeks of their married life her husband has failed to support her.

She also alleges that he is now living with another woman, whose name she does not know.

The case is still on.

JACOBS-SIRE SUIT POSTPONED.

The trial of the Jacobs-Sire breach of promise suit was to-day again postponed until to-morrow, the application of the counsel for Sire.

PUGILISTIC BANKER.

Eugene Kelly's Son Gets the Worst of a Street Encounter.

Arraigned in Evening Dress, Bearing Marks of the Fray.

Andrews Withdrew the Complaint and Both Were Discharged.

The first prisoner arraigned this morning in Jefferson Market Police Court was Eugene Kelly, thirty-three years old, of 19 Washington square, the son of the well known banker. Mr. Kelly presented a sorry spectacle. The glory of his usually fine appearance, redolent with rennet and good breeding, had sadly waned.

He was still in evening dress. His hair was disheveled, and his overcoat collar was turned up to hide the wide expanse of his dress shirt. His glossy tie was ruffled and broken.

For several moments he stood at the head of the line of prisoners, the object of the gaze of many eyes, and when the strain became too strong, he turned his head aside and hid his embarrassment behind his slick hat.

Directly behind Mr. Kelly stood a well-dressed man who affected a decided air of indifference. This was Harry Andrews, thirty-two years old, of 127 and 129 West Thirty-second street.

At 3:30 o'clock this morning, according to Mr. Andrews, he was walking up Fifth avenue on his way home. At Twenty-third street he met Mr. Kelly, and after a short conversation, Andrews knocked Kelly down. Mr. Kelly got up and ran away, and Andrews followed. They were stopped by Officer Reiser, of the Mercer street station.

Kelly demanded the arrest of Andrews, saying he had been assaulted.
Andrews made a counter charge of a very serious nature. Both were taken to the police-house, where they remained all night.

Mr. Kelly and Mr. Andrews were this morning brought to court. "You are well, sir," said Justice Voorhis to Kelly. "What have you to say?"

"I have nothing to say, sir. I withdraw my complaint. This is a mistake."
"What have you to say?" to Andrews.

Mr. Andrews blushed and hesitated, and finally said: "I don't want to draw my complaint, also. I don't want to be hard on Mr. Kelly. We probably both been drinking and made a mistake."

"Now, here, officer, what does this mean?" sternly said the Justice. "That prisoners come here and then withdraw their complaints? Well, something must have happened when they were taken to the station and interference of the court."

"Your Honor," said Officer Reiser, "at 2 o'clock this morning I got these two men at Twenty-third street and Fifth avenue. Mr. Kelly here demanded Andrews' arrest."

Justice Voorhis tried to draw more from the policemen, but the latter resisted. Kelly continued the policeman.
"Denial Andrews charged me with the assault and interference of the court."

Both prisoners were discharged. They hurried from the court room and refused to sign the papers which were as unsuccessful as they were energetic in working to conceal the facts in the case.

GANNON IS ALL READY

He Is Waiting for Howard Carroll to Tender That $175,000.

The Latter Fears that the Slips Will Be Held Until Nov. 1.

And the Ferry Buddle Is as Far from Settlement as Ever.

"Bring on that $175,000," exclaimed General Gannon this morning, as he seated himself in the office of the State Island Ferry Transit Company at the foot of Whitehall street.

"What? That money not here?" he exclaimed, as a scrutiny of his desk developed nothing in the nature of greenbacks.

"Well, well, well! This is what I call travelling with the interests of the public in mind. That man Carroll has no more regard for the public than he has for his feelings. Here I am waiting to clutch that $175,000 and give Carroll possession in peace and perpetuity."

"Does that mean that I'll get out before Nov. 1? Not much, I have said my rent until Nov. 1, and here I'll stick until then. Our boats are still running, and will continue to run. Mark you, that is unless we are enjoined from so doing, and then the matter will be thrown into the court."

"Why, then, the thing of the city of New York throttling the commerce of the great metropolis by making railroad and ferry companies pay tribute is an absolute nothing. It is one hundred and fifty years behind the times, and when this case is finally disposed of in the courts they will be free to all who wish to operate them."

When Sup't Gannon had thus delivered himself of an "Evening World" reporter he added:

"I will not attempt to evade the service of that $175,000 upon me by Mr. Carroll, but will sit here a week if necessary."

When informed that he could have obtained the money by going to the Comptroller's office he said:

"What is the use of that? I mean I don't want to keep shop in the Comptrol's office."

Howard Carroll was informed that Mr.
Gannon was anxiously waiting in the rapid-transit company's office for the payment of the purchase money.

"Well, he has a nerve!" ejaculated Mr.
Carroll.

"Now $175,000 is not a small sum.
What guarantee have we that those fellows down there will keep it? I don't want to keep it, as they are now keeping the ferry slips in violation of law. That money was in the hands of the regular yesterday, and Gannon should have gone there and received it."

"Gannon is acting in defiance of law.
Why don't you give us our property? Let them come and get the money right now.
But don't say I'll give it to you."

"There may be some developments after 2 o'clock."

When asked if the actions of Mr.
Gannon and himself in avoiding each other did not smack of open bouffé, Mr. Carroll said:

"Maybe they do, but it would be more likely to be the fault of the possession of the money and refused to give up the property."

Justice Voorhis tried to draw more from the policeman, but the latter resisted. Kelly continued the policeman.
"Denial Andrews charged me with
court."

hurried from the court room and refused

FIGHT FOR CONGRESS.

It Is a Triangular One in Eight of the Nine Districts.

In the Seventh "Sojer" Flynn May Spoil Bartlett's Chances.

Tim Campbell and E. J. Dunphy Now Among the Tiger Hunters.

A triangular duel with ballots is on in at least eight of the nine Congressional districts in New York City. Candidates have been set up by Tammany, by the Republicans and by the State Democratic.

The latter organization has taken up three men "disciplined" by Tammany, has nominated two of them—Timothy J. Campbell and E. J. Dunphy—and will name the third—John De Witt Warner—some time to-day.

In Campbell's district, the Ninth, there is a possibility that the nomination by the Republicans of Johnny Simpson will be declared irregular and void, and that the party will endorse Campbell in an effort to defeat Harry Miner, the Tammany candidate.

John De Witt Warner's candidacy in the Thirteenth may serve to defeat the election of Amos J. Cummings, who was transferred there from the Eleventh.

With one or two independents in the field the situation has become so complex that the election of any one of the nominations cannot be foretold with certainty.

Alfred "Sojer" Flynn, who was nominated for Congress by the O'Brien-ites in the Seventh District last night, will be out this morning to get an indorsement from the Republicans. When asked what the outlook was, the Aldermen replied:

"All the people want me, and I am going to run whether any other organization indorses me or not. I am going to get even with Tammany for turning him down, by causing the defeat of Bartlett, Tammany's candidate for Congress in the Seventh."

This is the list of candidates: Dist. TAMMANY. STATE DEM.
1—Franklin Bartlett. John T. Murphy.
2—James J. Walsh. John J. Murphy.
3—Harry C. Miner. J. J. Campbell.
4—John De Witt Warner. George Karsh.
5—Wm. Butler. J. J. Campbell.
6—Geo. B. McEllen. Geo. Walton Green.
7—Amos J. Cummings. J. De Witt Warner.
8—John Connolly. E. J. Post.
9—Jacob A. Cantor. J. De Witt Warner.

Dist. REPUBLICAN.
1—Austin C. Ford.
2—John Simpson.
3—Andrew J. Campbell.
4—Robert A. Chesbro.
5—Lemuel H. Quigg.
6—John Connolly.
7—Jacob A. Cantor.

"Turned down by Tammany."
To be nominated this afternoon.

O'SULLIVAN TO RESIGN.

The Policeman-Lawyer Prepares for the Assembly Race.

The policeman-lawyer, Michael O'Sullivan, who for a long time has been a clerk in Complaint Clerk Peterson's office, at Police Headquarters, will hand in his resignation as a policeman some time to-day. The action is taken so that he may legally be elected to the Assembly.

O'Sullivan is the nominee of the State Democratic and the regular Republican party and his popularity in the First Assembly District, where he has resided since his youth, he expects to win a good many votes from the regular Tammany candidate, Daniel E. Finn.

It is said that O'Sullivan, who is remained young and ambitious, has recently been elected to the position of clerk in the bad odor in the Police Department.

Special Police Precautions on the Russian Church Concession to the Czarewitch's Fiances.

(By Associated Press.)
CORFU, Oct. 16.—The Greek Government and the local authorities of the Island of Corfu are taking measures for the safety of the Czar. The police are carefully watching all the strangers at Corfu and all arrivals from this time on will be required to give good accounts of themselves.

The chateau of the King of Greece is being placed in the thorough order for the use of the Czar. Several Russian officials have already arrived here, and others are expected shortly.

The police precautions will include a patrol of the shores of the whole island in order to prevent the unauthorized landing of strangers.

BERLIN, Oct. 16.—The Kreuz Zeitung says that Princess Alix of Hesse has obtained concessions from the Russian Holy Synod, such as no Princess in a like position ever before secured in embracing the Orthodox faith.

She will not declare her former religion to be accused, nor will she state that her conversion is due to the conviction that the truth lies not with her own but with the Russian Church. The Holy Synod will be satisfied with a simple declaration that the Princess joins the Greek Church, in order to be of the same religion as her future husband, the present Czarewitch.

LONDON, Oct. 16.—The assertion was printed to-day that Mr. Gladstone has long entertained the idea of taking Holy Orders; that it was for this reason he determined to retire from Parliament, and that if his health and sight should allow it he would shortly be a candidate for ordination. Mr. Gladstone, replying to a telegram of inquiry, said the assertions made were quite untrue.
